7.1.4: Describe the Institutional efforts/initiatives in providing an inclusive environment i.e., tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional, linguistic, communal socioeconomic and Sensitization of students and employees to the constitutional obligations: values, rights, duties and responsibilities of citizens

Students from all castes, religions, and geographical locations may study together at the institution without facing any kind of discrimination since it supports cultural and traditional equality. Despite the many sociocultural origins and language expressions that define our school, we have a zero-tolerance policy on any kind of discrimination based on cultural, regional, linguistic, or other factors.

Disparities in the community, socioeconomic status, or other factors. There are monuments, national festivals, and birth anniversaries devoted to the memory of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, and Lal Bahadur Shastri. The institution honors Rashtriya Ekta Diwas, an annual celebration of the vow made by instructors and students on National Integration Day, on October 31st. This encourages positive interaction amongst people with different racial and cultural origins. The university features a number of grievance redressal cells that address complaints impartially, regardless of race or culture. Examples of these cells include the Women's Grievance Redressal Cell and the Student Grievance Redressal Cell.

There are many departments that provide industrial tours and outdoor studies around India. A wide variety of cultures are present for both the teachers and the pupils. Our organization offers programs that promote cross-cultural exchange across nations.

The Institute makes use of the benefit of not only providing students with a strong academic foundation but also persistently working to foster their development as model citizens. In addition to providing legal education, the school uses a variety of programs and activities to foster a sense of community among its students.

Many academic departments have regularly planned programs that motivate and inspire students to engage in a variety of endeavors that uphold the national motto of "Unity in Diversity." The College promises that students will enthusiastically participate in these events. The college has made a concerted effort over the last five years to advance appropriate practices and increase student understanding in the following areas:

The College has continuously carried out a number of programs to improve knowledge of the many dimensions of national character. Disseminating the national message is the College's main goal. The College observes Republic Day and Independence Day with great formality and splendor.

Every year, the NSS Committee plans and celebrates Constitution Day in an effort to spread awareness of constitutional principles and values.

A variety of extracurricular and academic events have been planned by faculty members from various departments to promote knowledge and comprehension of Indian citizens' rights, directive principles, and fundamental duties.

The university has organized student-focused events, including as essay, poster, and paper contests, which have consistently attracted a sizable enrollment and improved students' comprehension of different constitutional obligations.
